Experience

Associate Director of UX, Dom & Tom
August 2016 to Present, Austin, TX

As manager of the UX team, I am responsible for standardizing the UX process and communicating how the design department works with other agency disciplines.

UX Design Lead, Dom & Tom
November 2015 to August 2016, Austin, TX

As a Design Lead, my main responsibilities included mentoring Junior Designers and serving as a design strategist on projects. The majority of the work was Agile and focused on providing both direction and deliverables for startups and enterprise clients in an iterative and collaborative manner.

Senior User Experience Designer, Code and Theory
December 2014 to December 2015, New York, NY

In addition to typical design deliverables, I have had the pleasure of helping define content strategy, experience principles, and feature ideation for both product and service design projects.

Senior User Experience Designer, Dom & Tom
December 2013 to December 2014, New York, NY

I served as a UX Lead and Product Designer on a number of projects. I also spearheaded an Agile/Lean initiative for our design and development process in order to help our clients make more informed product decisions and have our teams work more efficiently with one another.

User Experience Designer, Spies & Assassins (Freelance)
October 2013 to November 2013, New York, NY

Interaction Designer, OpenSky
January 2013 to August 2013, New York, NY

I worked closely under the UX Director in delivering wireframes, user flows, storyboards, and presentations when needed.
